IN RE: BOSTON SCIENTIFIC CORP.,
PELVIC REPAIR SYSTEM
PRODUCTS LIABILITY LITIGATION

MDL No. 2326

THIS DOCUMENT RELATES TO:

Hockett, et al. v. Boston Scientific Corp.

Civil Action No. 2:13-cv-07132

ORDER

Pending before the court is Boston Scientific Corp.’s (“BSC”) Motion to Dismiss [ECF No. 9]. The plaintiffs have responded to the motion, and attached a Plaintiff Profile Form containing personal data as identified in Local Rule of Civil Procedure 5.2.1(a) [ECF No. 10-2]. This motion is now ripe for decision. For the reasons stated below, BSC’s Motion to Dismiss [ECF No. 9] is GRANTED in part and DENIED in part.

I. Background

This case resides in one of seven MDLs assigned to me by the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation concerning the use of transvaginal surgical mesh to treat pelvic organ prolapse and stress urinary incontinence. In the seven MDLs, there are over 75,000 cases currently pending, over 18,000 of which are in the BSC MDL, MDL 2326. Managing multidistrict litigation requires the court to streamline certain litigation procedures in order to improve efficiency for the parties and the court. Pretrial Order (“PTO”) # 14 states that, for cases transferred into the BSC MDL, “those plaintiffs who only named defendants named in Master Complaints in this [MDL]... shall file an Amended Short Form Complaint within 30 days of receipt of the member case number in MDL No. 2326.” (PTO # 14, In re: Boston Scientific Corp., Pelvic Repair System Prods. Liab.

Litig., at 3-4, 2:12-md-2326, entered Sep. 26, 2012, available at <http://www.wvsc.uscourts.gov/MDL/boston/orders.html>). Simply put, when a plaintiff whose case is transferred into the BSC MDL alleges claims against only BSC, she shall file an Amended Short Form Complaint within 30 days of receiving the member case number.

Furthermore, PTO # 16 ensures that BSC receives the plaintiff-specific information necessary to defend the cases against it. Under PTO # 16, each plaintiff in this MDL must submit a Plaintiff Profile Form (“PPF”) to act as interrogatory answers under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 33 and responses to requests for production under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 34. (See PTO # 16, In re: Boston Scientific Corp., Pelvic Repair System Prods. Liab. Litig., No. 2:12-md-2326, entered Oct. 4, 2012, available at <http://www.wvsc.uscourts.gov/MDL/boston/orders.html>). Each plaintiff must submit a PPF within 60 days of filing a Short Form Complaint. (Id. ¶ 1b). Failure to do so subjects the plaintiff “to sanctions, to be determined by the court, upon motion of the defendants.” (Id. ¶ 1i). The parties jointly drafted the requirements for PTO # 16, and I entered it as applicable to every one of the thousands of cases in this MDL.

Here, the plaintiffs’ case was transferred from the United States District Court for the Southern District of Mississippi into the BSC MDL on April 4, 2013. On April 4, 2013, the plaintiffs received a member case number pursuant to joining the BSC MDL. Because the plaintiffs only allege claims against BSC, they should have filed an Amended Short Form Complaint within 30 days of receiving their member case number pursuant to PTO # 14. Furthermore, within 60 days after that, the plaintiffs should have submitted a PPF to BSC pursuant to PTO # 16. The plaintiffs did not submit a PPF during this time period. Indeed, the plaintiff did not submit a PPF until BSC filed the instant motion, making the PPF more than a year late. BSC asks the court to dismiss the plaintiffs' case or, alternatively, sanction the plaintiffs a reasonable monetary penalty under the terms and conditions that the court deems appropriate. The plaintiffs, while admitting that the PPF was untimely, insist that the discovery deficiency was or has been cured and was merely due to inadvertence.

II. Legal Standard

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 37(b)(2) provides that a court may issue "just orders" when a party fails to provide or permit discovery. Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(b)(2)(A). In the MDL world, this authority has particular significance. An MDL judge bears the "enormous" task of "mov[ing] thousands of cases toward resolution on the merits while at the same time respecting their individuality," and to carry out this task in a smooth and efficient manner, the judge must establish and, more importantly, enforce rules for discovery. In re Phenylpropanolamine Prods. Liab. Litig., 460 F.3d 1217, 1231 (9th Cir. 2006). Rule 37(b)(2) supplies the tool for this enforcement, allowing a judge to impose sanctions when a party fails to comply with the court's discovery orders. See id. at 1232 ("[A] willingness to resort to sanctions, sua sponte if necessary, may ensure compliance with the [discovery] management program." (internal citation omitted)); see also Freeman v. Wyeth, 764 F.3d 806, 810 (8th Cir. 2014) ("The MDL judge must be given 'greater discretion' to create and enforce deadlines in order to administrate the litigation effectively.").

III. Discussion

The circumstances of this case lead me to impose the sanction provided in Rule 37(b)(2)(C), which requires the disobeying party to pay "the reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, caused by the [discovery] failure, unless the failure was substantially justified or other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust." Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(b)(2)(C). The plaintiffs have not provided substantial justification for the failure to timely submit to discovery.

Furthermore, there are no circumstances that make this sanction unjust. Although the discovery violation has since been cured, it nevertheless resulted in litigation expenses for BSC. Applying Rule 37(b)(2)(C) ensures that the disobeying party, rather than the innocent party, bears those costs. Accordingly, BSC's Motion to Dismiss is DENIED in part in regards to dismissing the plaintiffs' claim and GRANTED in part to the extent that it seeks the payment of reasonable expenses.

To bring this Motion to Dismiss, BSC expended time and money identifying Ms. Hockett as one of the non-compliant plaintiffs; assessing the effect of her discovery violations; drafting a motion to dismiss or for sanctions; and serving the motion. Based on my understanding of the economic and administrative realities of multidistrict litigation, I conclude that a more representative, though still minimal, valuation of BSC's expenses, and the proper sanction in this case, is in the amount of $1000.

IV. Conclusion

It is therefore ORDERED that the plaintiffs have 30 business days from the entry of this Order to pay BSC $1000 as minimal partial compensation for the reasonable expenses caused by the plaintiffs' failure to comply with discovery.<sup>1</sup> In the event that the plaintiffs do not provide adequate or timely payment, the court will consider ordering a show-cause hearing in Charleston, West Virginia, upon motion by the defendants. It is further ORDERED that BSC's Motion to Dismiss [ECF No. 9] is GRANTED in part and DENIED in part. Additionally, the plaintiff is DIRECTED to file an Amended Short Form Complaint, form available at <http://www.wvsc.uscourts.gov/MDL/boston/forms.html>. It is ORDERED that plaintiffs' counsel send a copy of this Order to the plaintiff via certified mail, return receipt requested, and file a copy of the receipt.

Finally, it is ORDERED that the Clerk strike the PPF documents [ECF No. 10-2] and remove the images from the docket. Plaintiffs' counsel is directed to refrain from filing such personal records like the PPF in the future. The court DIRECTS the Clerk to send a copy of this Order to counsel of record and any unrepresented party.
